

HARMON FOR TARIFF REFORM AND ECONOMY

Would Stop Taxing the Country to Give Advantage to the Great Protected Industries.

GOVERNMENT TOO COSTLY

Billion Dollars a Year a Burden on the People. Governor Alter Reception Beats All Comers at Billiards.

St Louis Jan 12. Gov. Hudson Harmon of Ohio arrived in St Louis last night, and today afternoon after being delayed six hours on his way from Chicago by engine trouble and snow drifts.

Seventy-five leading Democrats from all parts of Illinois were present and together with the St. Clair county Democratic Club, helped to entertain him in the Elks Club rooms.

The Governor spent an afternoon defeating all commercialists at which he is an agent and between cups put aside his coat to shake hands with the crowd gathered over the tables. He played billiard games in St Louis as well as himself out-of-doors nights.

Among the visitors at the reception was Dr. J. F. Cusack, Democratic national committee man from Rockford, Ill., who had never met the Governor and declared agreement in the last sentence he had just made, that the Ohio Executive was running ahead of Woodrow Wilson, Gen. S. Sanderson, Democratic candidate for Governor of Illinois, was in the rear.

"The biggest issue in the coming campaign will be the tariff and economy stemming the waste of public money," Gov. Harmon said in an interview. "The prospects for the Democrats are brighter this year than they have been for some time and I see no indication of a serious split in the party. There are many capable Democrats but they have had very little opportunity to demonstrate their capabilities."

When asked what he thought of the Government's suit against the steel trust, Gov. Harmon laughed and explained, "I know Andy's pretty well and that is why I laugh." He said he believed that the grip of big business interests upon the Government is weaker now than it ever has been. This is true in Ohio, he added, and he believes it true in other States.

He said he could not tell what Roosevelt would do in the coming campaign, as he was a "real guesser." The insurgent Republicans, he said, seemed to have stayed so far from the main body of the party that was possible they might never get back.

Turning to the Folk-Lynn conference in Missouri, he denied a story that he gained currency that a deal has been framed up whereby he is to get Clark support for the Presidential nomination after the first ballot. He said, "Folk and Clark are very good men."

The Indians, though Gov. Harmon said in part,

The defeat of Washington's attempt to New England to raise a rebellion against American independence was a disastrous defeat of arms. But when the American army of that battle, which was a victory, has been fought, the rebellion, for celebration all over the land, did not lack on the general that gives them so much as Jackson the Democrat, though he is the only one of our Presidents besides Washington who has a place in the hearts of the Americans to set up the highest pedestal in our estimation.

The report of the rebellion came in the spring of 1775, and the news did not wait for its own arrival, as it was conducted on the telegraph wires, and communication must somehow be made between the common patriots and patriots like us.

The situation of government by the people was not complete until the established principles a President should be brought from whom Johnson could be sent to the country, and when those principles were not fully realized, Jackson, the then popular president, Jackson Davis, and the other principles of reforming which the man of action had striking decisions to make in practice still exists as associated with his name, and these have not become stale, and never will, as associated with his name, as a species of property and government rather as a means for promoting individual interests than as an instrument created solely for the service of the people. Corruption is gone, and in comes a new version of corruption, and now we have different departments, from the same old heads and now it is an engine for the support of the few at the expense of the many.

The source of employing the taxing power to enrich individuals had made little progress in the country in Jackson's time. The result was that the occasion to establish it, and the succeeding period the opportunity to develop it to monstrous proportions.

Good citizens of all parties would have been called to demand the large sum tax to the expense of the country, the presentation of the nation, and the creation of needless positions and expenses, but it took a Democrat, Howe to express and correct it, and it will require a Democratic administration to cut down the already enormous and increasing cost of all the departments of the government.

The vital of the Federal Government has gone during three successive Republican administrations, from $10,000,000,000 two years to more than $10,000,000,000 a year, less taxes from the earnings and resources of citizens, but taxation of public business must be managed on the same principles that citizens devote to their private business.

But taking more than a billion dollars from the people for public purposes every year is a manifest abuse of authority compared with arranging tariff taxes so as to enable favored manufacturers to collect from them a much larger sum for their own benefit, according to arrangements, made with the industrial manufacturers, to the detriment of the rest of the country, and not to the benefit of the manufacturers.

Now we find the business of the entire country disturbed and halting because this wretched system of favor taxes has brought its certain result. Industrial competition has stimulated by these, and then suppressed by the formation of trusts and combinations in order that dividends might not cease on stocks which the capitalization of this special advantage instead of cutting off the source by reducing the tariff, it was sought to control the stream by forbidding these trusts and combinations.

It is significant that the Sherman anti-trust law and the McKinley tariff law were under consideration at the same time and passed in the same session, though introduced into Congress in 1890, but not passed until 1891, so that the effect of the McKinley bill was diminished during that period and did not attract general attention. But in 1891 a still worse tariff law was passed.

Manhattan Life Building

66 Broadway

This building is absolutely fireproof. It is side, and fully protected outside by water curtains seen out, and is the only building in this city thus equipped, and water supplied from large artesian well on the premises.

Tenants could not be subjected to the annoyances and interruptions of business as the tenants of the Fairmount are.

OFFICES FOR RENT

Immediate Possession

Apply 66 Broadway, N. Y.
Tel. John 3670

CALLS DEATH SENTENCE RELIC OF BARBARISM

State Prison Supt. Gives Reasons for His Desire to Have Capital Punishment Abolished.

IDEA IS OF MOSAIC ORIGIN

Statistics in States Which Have Banned It Do Not Show Increase of Crime.

ALBANY Jan 12. Amended laws in favor of abolishing the penalty of death for murders in this state were given out by State Superintendent of Prisons Joseph S. Tracy.

Tracy said that up to the present a series of arguments had been presented to him in favor of capital punishment, and that he had had the right to take into account the application as well as the general arguments in favor of capital punishment.

He said that the general argument in favor of capital punishment is that it is a deterrent to crime.

Statistics in States Which Have Banned It Do Not Show Increase of Crime.

Will be glad to mail you a copy of our Santa Fe de-Luxe booklet and tell you about the many exclusive features of this new train.

Gen. C. Dillard, Gen. Eastern P. & W., 477 and 12th Broadway, New York City. Phone, Franklin 3311 and 3411.

ARABS ON THE ROOF

Revolting Entertainment by Those Performing in "The Garden of Allah."

The Arabs were performing a stage and local color to "The Garden of Allah" at the Century Theatre, but it was called a field day upon the enclosed roof of the theatre yesterday because last night was the one hundredth performance of the play in Boston. W. W. Atkinson, who took off his clothes for a speech, for example, in trying to further the drama, was arrested.

Achmed, an Arab, and Hammar, chief of the Arabs, performed and maintained an atmosphere of savagery, as judge of the game, but further he said, "I am bound to believe that the performers have a right to practice their art."

The other fellow had a knife.

First came a folk song called the "Song of the Fox." There was one player on each side, as nearly as could be determined, to play the other side of the song. The soloist just made a noise, and then the others followed.

After each note was sounded, the others followed, and the side was also sounded.

Next came the "Korshing." For each spectator of the Arabs, there was a single ticket, and the sole object of the performance was to pass. After ten minutes' passing time was four feet back from the audience, the rest just sat and looked on.

After each note was sounded, the others followed, and the side was also sounded.

The next came the "Korshing."

For each spectator of the Arabs, there was a single ticket, and the sole object of the performance was to pass.

After ten minutes' passing time was four feet back from the audience, the rest just sat and looked on.

After each note was sounded, the others followed, and the side was also sounded.

The next came the "Korshing."

For each spectator of the Arabs, there was a single ticket, and the sole object of the performance was to pass.

After ten minutes' passing time was four feet back from the audience, the rest just sat and looked on.

After each note was sounded, the others followed, and the side was also sounded.

The next came the "Korshing."

For each spectator of the Arabs, there was a single ticket, and the sole object of the performance was to pass.

After ten minutes' passing time was four feet back from the audience, the rest just sat and looked on.

After each note was sounded, the others followed, and the side was also sounded.

The next came the "Korshing."

For each spectator of the Arabs, there was a single ticket, and the sole object of the performance was to pass.

After ten minutes' passing time was four feet back from the audience, the rest just sat and looked on.

After each note was sounded, the others followed, and the side was also sounded.

The next came the "Korshing."

For each spectator of the Arabs, there was a single ticket, and the sole object of the performance was to pass.

After ten minutes' passing time was four feet back from the audience, the rest just sat and looked on.

After each note was sounded, the others followed, and the side was also sounded.

The next came the "Korshing."

For each spectator of the Arabs, there was a single ticket, and the sole object of the performance was to pass.

After ten minutes' passing time was four feet back from the audience, the rest just sat and looked on.

After each note was sounded, the others followed, and the side was also sounded.

The next came the "Korshing."

For each spectator of the Arabs, there was a single ticket, and the sole object of the performance was to pass.

After ten minutes' passing time was four feet back from the audience, the rest just sat and looked on.

After each note was sounded, the others followed, and the side was also sounded.

The next came the "Korshing."

For each spectator of the Arabs, there was a single ticket, and the sole object of the performance was to pass.

After ten minutes' passing time was four feet back from the audience, the rest just sat and looked on.

After each note was sounded, the others followed, and the side was also sounded.

The next came the "Korshing."

For each spectator of the Arabs, there was a single ticket, and the sole object of the performance was to pass.

After ten minutes' passing time was four feet back from the audience, the rest just sat and looked on.

After each note was sounded, the others followed, and the side was also sounded.

The next came the "Korshing."

For each spectator of the Arabs, there was a single ticket, and the sole object of the performance was to pass.

After ten minutes' passing time was four feet back from the audience, the rest just sat and looked on.

After each note was sounded, the others followed, and the side was also sounded.

The next came the "Korshing."

For each spectator of the Arabs, there was a single ticket, and the sole object of the performance was to pass.

After ten minutes' passing time was four feet back from the audience, the rest just sat and looked on.

After each note was sounded, the others followed, and the side was also sounded.

The next came the "Korshing."

For each spectator of the Arabs, there was a single ticket, and the sole object of the performance was to pass.

After ten minutes' passing time was four feet back from the audience, the rest just sat and looked on.

After each note was sounded, the others followed, and the side was also sounded.

The next came the "Korshing."

For each spectator of the Arabs, there was a single ticket, and the sole object of the performance was to pass.

After ten minutes' passing time was four feet back from the audience, the rest just sat and looked on.

After each note was sounded, the others followed, and the side was also sounded.

The next came the "Korshing."

For each spectator of the Arabs, there was a single ticket, and the sole object of the performance was to pass.

After ten minutes' passing time was four feet back from the audience, the rest just sat and looked on.

After each note was sounded, the others followed, and the side was also sounded.

The next came the "Korshing."

For each spectator of the Arabs, there was a single ticket, and the sole object of the performance was to pass.

After ten minutes' passing time was four feet back from the audience, the rest just sat and looked on.

After each note was sounded, the others followed, and the side was also sounded.

The next came the "Korshing."

For each spectator of the Arabs, there was a single ticket, and the sole object of the performance was to pass.

After ten minutes' passing time was four feet back from the audience, the rest just sat and looked on.

After each note was sounded, the others followed, and the side was also sounded.

The next came the "Korshing."

For each spectator of the Arabs, there was a single ticket, and the sole object of the performance was to pass.

After ten minutes' passing time was four feet back from the audience, the rest just sat and looked on.

After each note was sounded, the others followed, and the side was also sounded.

The next came the "Korshing."

For each spectator of the Arabs, there was a single ticket, and the sole object of the performance was to pass.

After ten minutes' passing time was four feet back from the audience, the rest just sat and looked on.

After each note was sounded, the others followed, and the side was also sounded.

The next came the "Korshing."

For each spectator of the Arabs, there was a single ticket, and the sole object of the performance was to pass.

After ten minutes' passing time was four feet back from the audience, the rest just sat and looked on.

After each note was sounded, the others followed, and the side was also sounded.

The next came the "Korshing."

For each spectator of the Arabs, there was a single ticket, and the sole object of the performance was to pass.

After ten minutes' passing time was